PROJECT OVERVIEW

NinjaSwap is a dex that enables swapping, farming, and staking for BEP-20 tokens. Its AMM follows the tradition of Uniswap. But it gets its speed and affordable transaction fee from Binance Smart Chain. Besides that, unlike other swap platforms, a limited number of tokens are minted. The team has no interest in farming and staking, it provides all the income to the participants. The team only profits from the AMO type special sale. In fact, 0.05% LP Fee is buyback and burned.

NinjaSwap Fundamentals

A Ninja is a person who acts in secrecy and defends himself very well. Ninja philosophy blended with blockchain culture comes together on the NinjaSwap platform.

A Ninja does not have a master (a master is included in Ninja, but can not cover a Ninja) and is therefore decentralized, just like NinjaSwap Dex.

A Ninja likes to share, just like being generous enough in the referral system in bounty and AMO.

A Ninja respects and reveres labor, just like the CAKE snapshot airdrop. A Ninja glorifies as needed and never gives up, just like AMO.

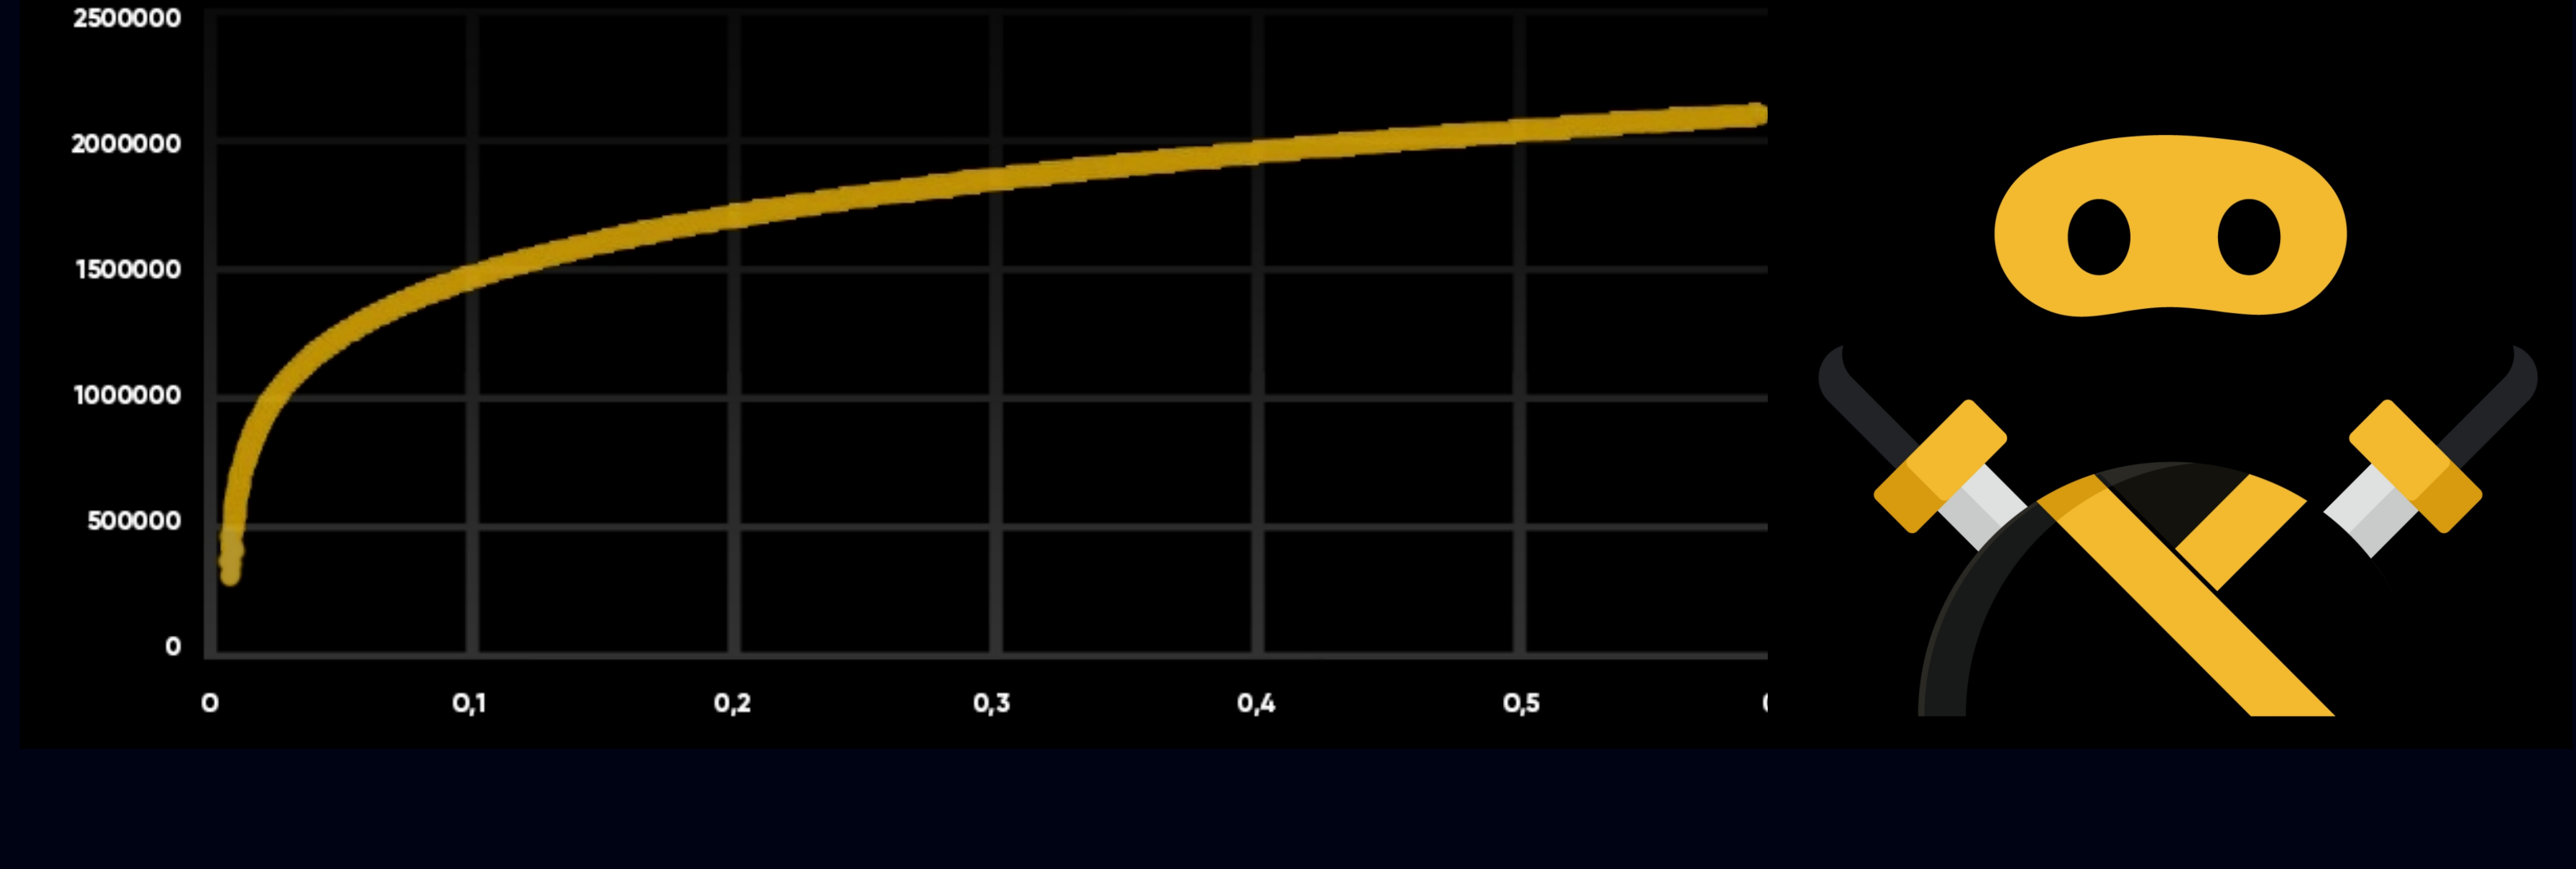

A Ninja likes to share success and failure, supports what Ninja believes in, just like the Ninja IFO platform.

Automatic Minting Offering (AMO)

The token price will continue to follow its course as the bonding curve according to Bancor with the upper bound increases as the sale is made. Due to the mathematical nature of AMO, it works with the logic that gets it early, gets cheaper. The higher the number of tokens issued, the higher the price per token. This means that new tokens are only issued if the price has a new rise.

Why is referral important in AMO?

If someone buys with your referral number, you will receive 10% tokens on the purchase of who uses your referral number, and also because the system is AMO, your tokens will be more valuable (and received tokens from the referral will also be more valuable).
